DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Okada (U.S. Patent No. 4,573,681).

Claims 1-3: The Examiner uses clearly anticipated as the Applicant's invention is clearly disclosed in Applicant's own patent issued in March of 1986. The claims are currently very broad and read on any electromechanical slot machine having a plurality of reels and stopping controller (i.e. a stepper motor with stoppers) to stop the reels at a predetermined outcome. Additionally, such limitations as determining an outcome (i.e. randomly) internally in a gaming machine, stopping the reels based on that determined outcome, and awarding a prize based on that outcome compared to a payable are all well known and clearly explained in U.S. Patent No. 4,573,681. Furthermore, the variable display are reels, the front side display is shown in figure 1 as the "front" of the slot machine, which includes "opening" areas where the symbols displayed by the variable display can be seen (as in claim 2). Thus, for at least the reasons stated above, Okada (U.S. Patent No. 4,573,681) clearly anticipates claims 1-3.
